BMW M1 Gets Power and Design Upgrade from Kellener Sport

11/07/2011 16:31 by admin

The BMW M1 already seems to be a dream come true, but as if the gut it had wasn't enough, the popular sportscar has received an extra upgrade by Kelleners Sport. Coming with a new aggressive look, the tuning company has also pumped a little muscle into the car.The car now boasts a high-revving 3.0-liter, six cylinder twin-turbo engine, tuned to develop 410 horsepower and 405 lb-ft of torque.

A front spoiler lip that provides optimum down force at high speeds has also been added. [...]

Source: autoevolution