The Jeep Wrangler needs no presentation - this is a car with fans all over the world. However, what the off-roader would need is an image that is a bit more modern.

Well, Project Kahn recently decided to help with this, introducing a number of Kahn expedition vehicles, which are basically multiple bespoke conversion that are destined for top fashion destinations, such as London, Chelsea and New York. Thus, the tuner wanted to bring fashion and rugged cars together, using punchlines such as[...]
