New Mopar '12 Chrysler 300 Special to go on Sale in this Summer, Only 500 will be Made

31/01/2012 21:38 by admin

As part of its 75th anniversary celebrations, Mopar revealed a new limited edition version of the Chrysler 300 that will go on display at the 2012 Chicago Auto Show from February 10-19 before it arrives in dealerships this summer with a starting price of $49,700, which includes $825 for destination.

The Mopar '12 300 will be built in a limited run of 500 units, all of which are painted in a black exterior finish with bespoke Mopar appointments such as the black chrome grille and accents, tinted lights, blue pin stripes on the profile and hood, plus ?Mopar 75? fender badges and a set of color matching 20-inch forged alloy wheels.[...]

Source: Carscoop