Porsche Panamera Turbo gets a Hamann-Style Makeover

18/11/2011 18:03 by admin

If you ain't satisfied from Porsche's standard Panamera offerings nor its comprehensive customization program, the tuning specialists at Hamann have put their BMW tunes on the side to work on Stuttgart's sports saloon. The result is named the Cyrano and it includes both styling and a selection of performance upgrades. Starting with the exterior, Hamann developed a new wide-body aero package that transforms the looks (for the better or for the worse, we'll let you be the judge of that) of the Panamera.[...]

Source: Carscoop