German tuner MTM is preparing some pretty extreme developments for next week's Geneva Motor Show and we're here to talk about our favorite one. MTM has played with the T5 van, creating the T 500 2.5 TFSI 4motion. Well, the name kind of says it all: yes it does come with almost 500 hp and if the 2.5 TFSI designation sounds strange it's because such an engine doesn't exist - it was basically created by MTM!

VW's 2.5-liter inline-five unit has been heavily modified and now produces 472 hp at 6,9... [...]
