Kahn RS250 Range Rover Evoque Teased

04/05/2012 15:56 by admin

British aftermarket developer Kahn has built its reputation on developing interior and exterior goodies for Range Rovers, so the fact that the company is now playing with the Evoque pretty often is just natural. The tuner recently released a preview of an aggressive Evoque pack that is set to be introduced in July. Dubbed RS250, this offers two stages, allowing customers to choose between a mild and an extra-mean approach. It all starts w... [...]

Source: autoevolution