The BMW 1-Series M Coupe is one of our early favorites for car of the year and apparently, the love for this car extends far beyond our pages. A number of tuning companies are already lining up to get their hands on the 1M Coupe and short of saying, a tuning race of sorts has begun to release the best possible aftermarket program for the baby M. Kelleners Sport is one of the first to roll out their version of a modded 1M Coupe. Their package includes aerodynamic and performance upgrades that leave plenty of discussion on both sides of the fence. For starters, the car's external profile has been added with various items, including a new front lip, stripes on the car's hood, roof, and side sills, a new stainless steel grill, and a set of either 20" "Berlin" or "Hamburg" alloy wheels.[...]
