Manhart Racing is a BMW-dedicated tuner that loves to turn cars that go super-fast into ones that could potentially outsmart the speed camera itself. They've covered everything from the M3 to X6 M, so it's only natural that they focused their attention on the limited production Bavarian compact rocket.

Thus, we bring you the BMW 1-Series M Coupe by Manhart Racing, which not only looks awesome, but is also capable of delivering 450 horsepower to the road via its rear wheels. This is because of... [...]
