When we first laid our eyes on this vehicle and hastily read the title, we thought the Russians were trying to make something look like a Porsche Cayenne, but using a Volga. Just look at the thing! Does it look like a Porsche?

To our immense surprise, we were wrong. What your are looking at is in fact a Porsche Cayenne converted by Cardi, a quite eccentric Russian design company, to look like an 1960 Volga GAZ-21, as Carscoop found out.

The Volga Cayenne uses the ...
