

STRUT Unveils New Luxury Wheels

14/01/2009 11:29 by Tuning - AutoEvolution

Luxurious wheels decorated with all kinds of jewelry and expensive ornaments are often used by aftermarket companies, so it's somehow impossible to see one of those on the streets. However, STRUT, mostly known for its jewelry collection for luxury cars, has just introduced five new wheel design available at prices between $6,000 and $8,250. However, prices vary by size and finish as the company created several variants of the five aforementioned design.

So, we have five diffe...
