

FAB Design Bugatti Veyron and Maybach Coupe Under Development?

19/12/2011 13:50 by admin

The world of tuning has something to offer for every customer and some aftermarket developers are more special than others. This piece of news is dedicated to a tuner that really knows how to make impressive kits, even though they tend to be the love it or hate it type.

We are talking about FAB Design, a Swiss tuner that has recently given us a new website. On the homepage (we must thank GT Spirit for the scoop), we can find a sketch that could indicate the company is working on two "cre... [...]
