The Porsche 911 has received a new tuning package, with Lumma Design introducing a package that targets the exterior and the interior of the rear-engined coupe. Dubbed CLR 9 S, the package brings a front spoiler lip with a new grille for the front bumper, as well as headlight covers.

The tuner also added a set of 20-inch forged rims that come with a two-tone color scheme, as well as quadruple exhaust tips that come with a complex design. Stepping inside the vehicle, we find a full leather an... [...]
