

Custom 2004 Ford Mustang from Reifen Koch

15/03/2012 12:35 by admin

We don't often see Mustangs or Camaros tuned by German companies, but when we do it's usually something very special. This fourth generation 'Stang is a 2004 model, old enough not to be hot, right? Well no, not after Reifen Koch was done with it!

A lot of passion for muscle cars seems to have gone into making this thing. The Mustang has been fitted with Cevini-Bodykit, which costs around €8,000. But money is no object once you get a brand new Mustang that has Eleanor genes in it. Th... [...]

Source: autoevolution