Techart has released its latest project, which uses the Porsche 991 Cabriolet as a starting point and offers this a look similar to that of the 911 Turbo S Edition 918 Spyder (the outgoing 997 generation). The vehicle has been dressed in a body kit finished in gloss black, with some of the car's details coming in lime green. The car uses the Techart Aerokit 1, which was introduced earlier this year at the Geneva Motor Show, whil... [...]
