The Porsche Panamera's shape makes it a perfect car for aftermarket developers to play with and what could change its aspect more, without costing a fortune, if not a set of custom rims? The latest rolling gift for the Panamera comes from US specialist Deviant Wheels, which has fitted the car with its DV8.2 rims. These come in a 22x9.5-inch size for the front axle and in a 22x11.5-inch size for the rear one. [...]
