

2014 Irmischer Insignia Previewed

28/08/2013 15:06 by admin

Opel-tuning specialist Irmischer has released two renderings of the 2014 facelifted Insignia customization program that will be introduced at the 2013 Frankfurt Motor Show next month. The photos reveal that the 2014 Irmischer Insignia package will feature a two-piece front apron, side skirts, rear difusser, quad stainless steel tail pipes, roof spoiler, boot-lid spoiler, and newly-designed 20-inch alloy wheels. As expected, the manufacturer... [...]
