IND has unveiled their new Silverstone II BMW M3 convertible.

Designed to be "clean and subtle", the package features a discrete polyurethane front lip extension and the complete removal of all stock OEM reflectors. Other changes include a new "challenge" rear diffuser and 20-inch BBS LM chrome wheels outfitted with Nitto Invo tires.

In the coming months, IND will outfit the car with an Eisenmann Sport exhaust system, a Rogue short shift kit, and a performance shift knob and boot.

Although official information wasn't released, power likely comes from the standard 4.0-liter V8 engine that produces 414 hp and 295 lb-ft of torque.

Created for an unnamed client of IND's Portfolio styling service, the Silverstone II isn't "a mass produced modified car, but rather a car that is uniquely our client's."
