German tuner Gemballa has expanded its GT600 AERO 3 Sport Design Kit for the 957 Porsche Cayenne Turbo. New options include a Magic White paint color and headlamps in a Black Magic design. There is also a slew of "Gunmetal"-styled cosmetic options such as the carbon window frames, "powder-coated" mesh grill, carbon mirror frames and doorhandles, and the powder-coated wheels too. Finally, there's the black wheel bolts in a plasma coating. The standard AERO 3 sport design kit, previously done for the 955 Cayenne Turbo, is now updated to fit the 957. The core elements of which are the engine kit for a 600 hp output, electronic suspension-lowering, sport exhaust, 22-inch Gemballa Racing wheels as well as the in-house (Gemballa) brake system.

The kit also comes with its own optics features such as the GT-styled bonnet and a logo kit. On the inside is an interior design kit and SPC seats for the front.

Pricing for the new options was not made available.
