

The first tuning package for Opel Insignia

12/01/2009 17:05 by Hot Tuned Cars

Opel Insignia, the one that took the place of Vectra, raised a special interest since it was launched this summer. The new design pattern adopted by Opel attracted more and more tuning houses that want to create something impressive. The first step was made by Irmscher, the first tuning company that created a bodykit for the American [...]

Source: Hot Tuned Cars