

FALKEN Porsche 911 GT3 R

26/01/2011 21:13 by admin

The 2011 24 Hours of Nurburgring is still months away, but even now, we're already seeing teams introduce their stallions for the grueling endurance race. One team that's scheduled to participate in the event will be the FALKEN Motorsport Team, which will be fielding a custom, race-ready Porsche 911 GT3 R.. There's no denying that the competition at the 24 Hours of Nurburgring is going to be as tough as it's ever been. FALKEN will need to be on its A-game with their development of the car leading up to the race this June 25-26, 2011.[...]
