

Chevrolet Corvette Top Tuner 5 by ETC Enterprises

03/02/2011 02:57 by admin

We never thought we would see anything as cool as the 1400 HP Camaro Dragster revealed in 2010 by Canadian automotive research and development firm, ECT Enterprises. This Camaro actually belonged to the owner of ECT and was built because the owner had a vision that no one else seemed to grasp. One year later and that vision seems to have spread to another model in Chevrolet's lineup: the Corvette. The new Corvette Top Tuner 5 is a specially developed race-inspired Chevrolet Corvette that will be debuting at the 2011 Canadian International Auto Show in February. No details have been released for the Corvette at this time, but the images provided illustrate an animalistic edge that will undoubtedly make the competition think before they leap.[...]
