Talk about a ?Unicorn Project? if there ever was one. Jon Olsson, the Swedish free-skier and alpine ski racer, has made no bones about his love for finely tuned supercars, which includes his own stable of machines like the Nissan R35 GT-R and the Lamborghini Murciélago LP670-4 SuperVeloce. Now, Olsson is collaborating with ADV.1 wheels to create and develop the ?ultimate? Ultima GTR project. Details on the car are still not known with the exception of these jaw-dropping renderings, but if you know what the Ultima GTR is capable of, then you know that this car project is going to be a one sweet ride. Fast, powerful, and road-legal, the Ultima GTR is one of the fastest vehicles on the planet, no questions asked. It's got a Chevrolet-sourced 6.3-liter V8 engine that produces 543 horsepower ? the chassis, however, can take in engines that have an output of well over 1,000 horsepower ? and 528 lb/ft of torque.[...]
