Say what you want about the year Gemballa has had, but you can't deny that when these guys buckle down and bring their lunch pails to work, they're one of the best in the business when it comes to tuning high-powered sports cars. One product line that has been associated with Gemballa has been the Mirage GT, which is based on the Porsche Carrera GT. Over the years, Gemballa has released a number of Mirage models based on the Carrera GT, including the Carbon Edition, the Matte Edition, the Black Edition, and the Gold Edition. Recently, the German tuning company released the latest iteration of the super aggressive Mirage GT, christening it the "Matte Blue Edition". Similar to its predecessors, the Mirage GT Matte Blue Edition is powered by Gemballa's own V10 engine that produces 650 horsepower and 464 lb/ft of torque, up from the standard output of 612 horsepower and 435 lb/ft of torque the standard Carrera GT comes in. Those figures translate to a 0-62 mph time of 3.7 seconds (down from the stock version's 3.9-second time) with a top speed of 208 mph, which in turn is up from the Carrera GT's 205-mph top speed.[...]
