Do you remember the R8 Racing Edition Anderson Germany unveiled last year? Well, the tuning firm is back with that same package, but this time, they've applied it to an even cooler model. The Ferrari 599 GTB Fiorano Race Edition by Anderson Germany will be defined by the same black exterior and black/red interior, as well as a 30 HP engine upgrade. The package starts off with a body kit offered by Hamann, and then gets a new set of 21" wheels and a matte black wrap with an elegant red border. That same black and red treatment continues on the interior with black carbon fiber inserts on the door trims, radio frame, ashtray, gear stick frame, hand brake knob, and steering wheel. The black components are then highlighted with different red edges.[...]
