

Video: Platinum Motorsport's "EPIC" tuning showcase

02/04/2011 19:46 by admin

US-based tuner Platinum Motorsport has done a remarkable job in their years as one of the finest American tuning company's. And if there ever was doubt about the capabilities of these guys, then this two-and-half minute video, which they appropriately called 'Epic', will squash all that skepticism away faster than the time it takes for your jaws to drop on the floor. The video features six vehicles that have all passed through the hands of Platinum Motorsport, including the Lamborghini Murcielago LP640, the Mercedes SL65 AMG Black Series, and the Bentley Continental Supersports. Through our eyes, these cars are some of the finest aftermarket works we've seen and catching all of them in one video taking a tour of the streets of LA together is just about the very reason why the word 'epic' was put in the dictionary in the first place.[...]
