SR Automotive Group has been known for creating unique and stylish rides for those that already drive some of the best cars on the planet. The owner and founder of SR Auto Group, Tony Yuen, wanted to create a unique experience when it comes to tuning high-end luxury cars. The SR in the name stands for "Style and Refinement" which the company has been able to stick with throughout the years. The cars that end up coming from this Vancouver based shop are modified tastefully and express each individual's personality. One of their most recent projects was to create the ultimate Lamborghini Gallardo LP560, nicknamed "Erebos." The LP560 is the entry level model of the Gallardo, but its 5.2-liter V10 still creates 560 horsepower at 8,000 rpm and 398 ft-lbs of torque at 6,500 rpm.[...]
