

2011 Dodge Avenger gets in Rally Guise, but for what? [with Video]

13/04/2011 22:01 by admin

Joining the Mopar '11 Charger special at the New York International Auto Show next week will be the new Dodge Avenger rally car that heralds the first collaboration in the brand's newly announced relationship with Fiat Group subsidiary and aftermarket parts specialist, Magneti Marelli. The rally-prepped Avenger was built in cooperation with Chrysler's in-house tuner Mopar, and while fully functional, there's no word if the car will actually enter any sort of competition.[...]

Source: Carscoop Tuning