

Chevrolet Camaro Spyder by Revolution Styling

16/05/2011 20:14 by admin

Any tuning kits for the Chevrolet Camaro typically take advantage of the muscle car's coupe form, but Revolution Styling PR have gone a different route by capitalizing on the convertible version of this hot ride. With extensive modifications, including their own patent pending forward tilt hood, the tuning company has developed the world's first Turbocharged Camaro Spyder. The model will be based on the 2011 Chevrolet Camaro and will be limited to 20 units per year. The price for the conversion will range from $50,000 to $80,000 and will be sold at Chevrolet dealers starting in June 2011.[...]

Source: topspeed