If we had a beautiful Mercedes C63 AMG sitting in our garage waiting to get pimped out, there are plenty of tuning firms the world over that offer programs for the AMG-powered sports sedan, including others that we've featured in the past. But if you want something a little more fresh, German tuning firm, McChip, has something special for you. For the C63 AMG, McChip addressed the C63 AMG's performance capabilities by introducing a new kit that they're calling 'Stage 3'. As part of this program, McChip carefully remapped the car's ECU, optimizing it and improving the performance figures that come with it. On top of that, the German tuning firm also gave the C63 AMG a new Cargraphic exhaust system which, combined with the ECU optimization, bumped up the vehicle's output from 451 horsepower and 443 lb/ft of torque all the way up to 575 horsepower and 510 lb/ft of torque with a top speed of 193 mph.[...]
