

BMW M3 GTRS3 Candy Cane by Vorsteiner

28/05/2011 01:05 by admin

We have seen lots of tuning updates for the BMW M3, but this is without a doubt the sweetest interpretation of the sports car. Tuning firm, Vorsteiner, threw a little sugar on the M3 and calls it the "GTRS3 Candy Cane" because of its pure white exterior combined with striking red elements, including red side mirrors, wheels, bits of the bonnet, and the BMW logo. It's not every day we see a red BMW logo, but we think the company will forgive the color swapping for this ride.[...]
