A BMW 5 Series F10 with an M-sport package is already a vehicle that offers a dynamic appearance. However, this doesn't mean that tuners will stay away from offering the vehicle even more visual aggression. The latest aftermarket developer to offer an aerodynamic package for the vehicle is 3D Design, which played with the 5 Series in a moderate way.

The American tuner offers a front spoiler lip that uses an edgy design, as well as a boot lid spoiler, a rear window spoiler and a rear diffuser ... [...]
