

Prior Design Releases Bentley Continental GTC High Society

07/06/2011 02:15 by admin

Prior Design previously teased an aerodynamic package for Bentley's Continental GTC. Dubbed "High Society", the kit is now officially introduced just in time for the summer season.

The tuner has developed a package that doesn't scream "aftermarket!" in your ears, using styling cues that build on those offered by the vehicle's factory design.

At the front of the Continental GTC, we can see a new fascia that uses generously-sized air intakes, as well as a carbon fiber [...]
