The tuners at Prior Design have just published a new set of photos showing their enhanced aerodynamic kit designed specifically to improve the looks and performances of the Mercedes-Benz E-Klasse Coupe. This follows the tuning package released by the company for the exact same model last December.

However, this time the tuning specialists have included a unique set of 20-inch matte gold wheels. Just like the previous kit, they have also managed to bring the car 35mm closer to the tarmac. [...]
