

Vorsteiner BMW M3 Candy Cane: Automotive HPOA

07/06/2011 08:22 by admin

Want to have your BMW M3 modified beyond technical recognition? No problem, you have multiple options, with one very attractive proposal coming from US tuner Vorsteiner.

The aftermarket developer has fitted the E92 M3 coupe with a Candy Cane body kit that includes carbon fiber elements. The war suit consists of a reworked bonnet with more generous air vents, a new front fascia and... hey, wait a minute - this isn't your average body modification, we're talking about an extra beefy widebodykit [...]
