

Opel Meriva Gets Dark Custom Treatment

07/06/2011 08:22 by admin

There are many cars that frequently go under the spotlights of the aftermarket scene, receiving all the attention in the world. However, the Opel/Vauxhall Meriva isn't one of them. Thus, we were happy when we found out that one example of the vehicle (we must thank stancenation), a first generation one coming from Belgium.

The vehicle in question has received a lot of tuning care from its owner, being turned into a tempting small MPV.

The vehicle was fitted with a KW variant 1 suspension [...]
