

Loder1899 Tunes the All-new Ford Focus Hatch

07/06/2011 10:23 by admin

The new Ford Focus is probably the most important car right now for the Blue Oval, but as its shape is also new, the vehicle deserves just as much attention from the tuning world. Just think about it for a second: customize a new Focus, and everyone will turn their heads just because it's a new vehicle.

Thankfully, the German aftermarket specialists at Loder1899 have done a good job with it considering there should be no specialist parts available for it. Basically, the company dripped the [...]
