Even if a 2006 Lamborghini Gallardo SE is considered an old horse when compared to its newer brethren, it's still one of the fastest and most powerful Lamborghinis you'll ever find. With a 5.0-liter engine that produces 520 horsepower, the Gallardo SE has performance numbers that shouldn't be laughed at, but as far as some customers are concerned, 500 ponies just doesn't cut it anymore. One such owner of a 2006 Gallardo SE apparently isn't too thrilled that his Italian supercar only has 500 horsepower under its hood, so he decided to enlist the services of American tuner, Bradan, to turn his supercar into an 800-horsepower beast.[...]
