

Project Kahn Changes its Tune, Turns its Focus on Audi A5 Convertible

15/06/2011 02:58 by admin

If you like Project Kahn's tunes but would like to see something other than its Land Rover projects, you'll be happy to know that the British styling house has turned its attention on the Audi A5 Convertible. The styling package comprises of an aerodynamic kit that includes front and rear vented bumpers imitating the look of R8 sports car with mesh inserts, an available rear spoiler and a stainless steel sports quad exhaust system.[...]

Source: Carscoop