

Wald international Gives BMW 5-Series the Black Bison Look

18/06/2011 23:44 by admin

Given the full info on the new BMW M5 has just been released and the plus size supermodel can't be bought yet, people with cash in their pockets are probably desperate to own something to quench their thirst for a tricked-out 5er. This would be the perfect time for a tuning company to introduce something really special to cater to this need and create a stir.

Enter Wald International, the guys who know everything about lowering a luxury saloon to the ground and adding custom touches like LED [...]

Source: autoevolution