

Hennessey Venom GT readying for Goodwood Festival of Speed

29/06/2011 20:42 by admin

The Hennessey Venom GT may not look the part of a Veyron-slayer, but we've always come to realize not to judge cars by their outward appearance. This little monster is the perfect example of what we're talking about. The Lotus-derived, American-tuned supercar packs plenty of punch with its 6.2-liter LS9 V8 engine that produces an insane 800 horsepower. And if you just happen to be spending your time at the Goodwood Festival of Speed, you can get a chance to see the Venom in all its glory. [...]

Source: topspeed