

Audi A1 by ABT Sportsline

29/06/2011 21:43 by admin

ABT Sportsline has made tuning projects of the Audi A1 in the past, but their latest program for the German automaker's sports hatch figures to be one of the most powerful A1's this side of Audi's out of this world, 500-horsepower A1 Clubsport Quattro. Dressed in three unique color schemes - the Aloha, Klecks, and High Voltage - the 2011 iteration of their A1 package also comes with a prominent engine upgrade. Incidentally, these three color schemes also came with the 2010 ABT program, but that's not the important thing. What's new and different about the 2011 version is the powerful engine upgrade the A1 received that saw its output increase past the 200-horsepower mark. [...]

Source: topspeed