

Supercharged BMW M3 Duo from Active Autowerke and MAC

04/07/2011 18:18 by admin

The E92 M3 is the only M vehicle that has stayed true to the division's naturally aspirated legacy, with all the other extreme bimmers having become followers of the turbocharging religion. However, two US tuners have decided to create a special pair of M3s, brining another kind of forced induction to the game (we must thank BMW Blog for the scoop).

The first M3 comes dressed in a Verde Ithaca coat, which makes it shout about its performance to everybody. What performance? It's simple, the [...]
