The MINI Countryman may be, you know, British, but that hasn't stopped Italian tuning house Romeo Ferraris from creating a special edition in celebration of Italy's 150th anniversary as a nation. The festive MINI is based on the flagship Countryman Cooper S that is powered by a 1.6-liter turbocharged petrol churning out 184-horses and a peak torque of 240Nm. After Romeo Ferraris technicians remap the ECU and add a new intercooler, a sports air filter and a race-spec exhaust system, the aforementioned numbers grow to 227HP and 328Nm (241.9 lb-ft).[...]
