

Jaguar XJ X350 Black Bison Comes in... Blue

27/07/2011 15:48 by admin

As the tuning world always leaves space for more, and despite the fact that many think that a Jag is as good as it can get, Japanese tuner Wald International comes to prove us wrong. Applying the Black Bison kit we've so far seen on the Lexus LX570, BMW 5-Series F10 or the Bentley Continental Flying Spur, the tuners brought both exterior and interior updates to the car.

The model in question is the previous generation Jaguar XK (X350) which, despite the fact that it is now bearing the word ... [...]

Source: autoevolution