

ABT Gives Volkswagen Tiguan Facelift an Overhaul

28/07/2011 18:08 by admin

Considering that the Tiguan has been on the market since 2007, it was about time the German automotive producer offered it a new identity. And so it did, with the introduction of the Volkswagen Tiguan facelift model earlier this year. But some thought this wasn't enough and decided to give a facelift... to the facelift.

So is the case with the German tuners at ABT, who have come up with a custom package that targets both appearance and performance of the German SUV.

Starting slow, visually...[...]
