

Irmscher Astra GTC Coming to Frankfurt

08/08/2011 12:32 by admin

With the new Astra GTC three-door sports compact set to have its world premiere at the upcoming Frankfurt Auto Show this September, Opel-obsessed tuner Irmischer is preparing its own take on the model, one that will allow owners to make their vehicles stand out without using an extreme approach.

The tuned version of the Opel Astra GTC promises to be a true eye-catching creation at the event, as the initial images and details point out.

The upgrade program includes a redesigned front spoiler...[...]

Source: autoevolution