

Rumors: Fiat to Expand 500 Range with New Models Including Crossover

15/08/2011 22:19 by admin

Banking on the success of its new 500 hatch, Fiat plans to enhance the small car's range with a variety of new models within the next two years according to Autoweek. The first new addition to arrive in North America is the Abarth, the sportiest version of Fiat's city car that's already available in Europe. The Abarth 500 is powered by a highly-tuned 1.4-liter turbocharged four-cylinder delivering 180HP and 300 Nm (221 lb-ft) of torque.[...]

Source: Carscoop