

Another Brown Audi from Senner Tuning: 213 HP Q5 TDI

16/08/2011 13:27 by admin

Ever noticed how metallic brown is making a comeback? Porsche is definitely doing it in the stock world, but Senner Tuning is clearly also in love with the earthy tone. They've got a brownish Audi A1, an A5 Cabrio and now even an SUV.

We are of course talking about the latest project, which targets Audi's Q5, bringing style and performance to the middle child of the Q family. The company has specifically modified the 2.0-liter TDI version of the car, which has been boosted from average diesel ... [...]
