

Kahn Reaches to the Ferrari California

23/08/2011 23:25 by admin

Those looking to give a more personal touch to their Ferrari California without killing it, UK-based tuner Kahn has announced a new program for the Italian roadster. On the styling front, Kahn's California wears a set of forged Monza wheels in matt black measuring 21-inches up front and 22-inches at the back. Inside, new accessories and equipment include seats, steering wheel, instrument panel and infotainment system.[...]
