

Novitec Gives Alfa Romeo Giulietta Some Extra Juice

26/08/2011 13:17 by admin

It's the height of summer and if you don't drink your juice, you might end up looking anemic and weak in front of the competition. That's also true for cars, and one hatch that's looking a bit anemic is the elegant Alfa Romeo Giulietta that's as beautiful as an Italian supermodel but is lacking a bit of muscle on its bone.

Thus German tuners Novitec have given it a diet of body kits and ECU remaps. And the results show, as the little Giulietta looks a lot more aggressive and ready to take on [...]
